By FRED HAMPSON
Shanghai, May 9 (AP)—Fighting around Kaiting brought the Chinese civil war to an area 17 miles northwest of the heart of Shanghai today.

Far to the southwest, Communist armies pressed a twin-pronged offensive along an irregular 230-mile front. This operation extended from the seaport of Hangchow on the east to Lake Poyang on the west. At some places the Red drive had carried 200 miles south of Yangtze.

A Shanghai garrison command communique seemed to indicate

Landlords Fill Out Rent Boost Forms

No General Lifting Of Ceilings Indicated

Washington, May 9 (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of landlords are filling out forms needed to increase rents—but that doesn't necessarily mean a general lifting of rent ceilings.

This double announcement came over the weekend from federal rent officials. They said:

1. At least 500,000 landlords have already taken out official forms to petition for a rent increase, and the government is printing an additional 400,000 application sheets to meet the demand.

2. The rush for such forms is due to the fact that, if an increase is granted to a landlord, it dates back to the time he filed his petition. However, each petition will be handled separately, for approval or rejection.

The new rent control law directs federal officials to set ceilings that will reflect a fair net operating income for landlords. Housing Expediter Tighe Woods released his formula for determining such a fair income one week ago.

Under Wood's formula, landlords operating one to four dwelling units will be allowed rent increases if their net operating income is less than 25 per cent of gross income; their rents would be raised to a 30 per cent level. Landlords operating more than four units will be permitted to bring operating income up to 25 per cent if the net figure is now below 20 per cent.

Man Faces Charge Of Enticing Two Whitehall Sisters

Bethany, Mo., May 9 (AP)—Floyd Baxter, 29-year-old laborer, is on his way back to Michigan today to face a charge of enticing two school girls from their home.

Baxter, of Shelby, Mich., was arrested at a hotel here last Friday after he had telephoned to his mother in Michigan for funds. With him were the two girls, Joan Marie Franks, 12, and Bonnie Mae Franks, 11.

Two Michigan state police officers left today by car with Baxter for Muskegon. He waived extradition.

The two girls also were en route back to their homes at Whitehall, their mother, Mrs. Clifford Struberg, left last night by train.

Lansing Lawmakers Near Windup, Start Busy Week Tonight

Lansing, May 9 (AP)—Time began running out on the legislature today as it braced for most of the major decisions of the 1949 session and votes on more than 200 bills.

The House and Senate reconvene tonight for the next-to-last week of their current session.

Ahead lies the really hard work.

But the lawmakers at least know what faces them. All bills still in committee are dead except budget and tax measures.

The final 10-day battle to adjourn will be devoted to the bills left alive on the legislators' desks.

Still unanswered is how the state will work its way out of a deficit estimated by Governor Williams at substantially in excess of $60,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Republican leaders pooh-pooh Williams' estimates and have promised they will solve the problem. To date their answer is hidden.

If they do not solve it in two weeks Williams' demand for a four per cent corporation income tax is expected to suddenly come to life. It has been scarcely breathing in committee since early January.

Budget Bills Overhauled
Nearly all budget bills have been reported by appropriation committees in the House and Senate and nearly all are close to the current rate of expenditures. But the bills still face overhauling in committee again and no decision has been indicated on how much the state will spend for institutional and college construction programs.

Both chambers had plenty of meat for debate and bickering in the final two weeks.

In the Senate were two House-approved "headline" items: Abolition of the one-man grand jury system and improvements in the unemployment compensation law. Both have been changed by Senate committee since the House passed them and at least the latter is a likely target for more Republican-Democrat feuding.

The House has its share of issues left, too.

Rent decontrol, regulation of auto installment purchase contracts, a modification of the Bonine-Tapp law, the Higgins "used car use tax," increased workmen's compensation and others were among them.

Democrats Polish Up Substitute For Taft-Hartley Act

By HOWARD DOBSON

Washington, May 9 (AP)—House labor committee Democrats are busy these days polishing carefully and quietly the fine points of two labor legislation compromises.

One is a new bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law, and the other is a plan to get a 75-cent minimum wage approved by the house. On both, the polishers had some rough spots to smooth.

Democratic leaders want to bring the minimum wage bill to the floor before the end of this month; a return bout on the other issue has been set for about the first week in June.

Several committee members, including Reps. Sims (D-S. C.) and Jacobs (D-Ind.), are working on a new compromise Taft-Hartley repealer. They are patterning it after the measure Sims tossed into last week's labor debate with the backing of the Democratic leadership.

One main problem on this bill, said a committee member today, is drafting an acceptable provision for dealing with national emergency strikes. Some committee members insist on court injunctions as a last resort, and others insist on almost anything but injunctions.

One possible solution was outlined by Jacobs in an interview. It is a plan allowing the government to seize plants if employers ignore requests for a truce in the dispute, and for injunctions if the union involved is the offender. He said no plan has been agreed on yet by committee members.

Sims' original bill provided for injunctions only, and Labor Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) blamed the measure's defeat on the opposition of John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chieftain who has felt the sting of injunctions. The Sims bill was the administration's proposed Taft-Hartley repealer plus several features of that act.

Republicans and Southern Democrats teamed up to bat down the Sims bill, then temporarily put over a bill by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) to repeal the Taft-Hartley law by name but keep almost all of its provisions. The house, on a roll call vote, later sent the Wood bill back to Lesinski's committee, and thus after six days' debate had no labor bill at all.

The full committee is not due to be called together until late this week because several members are out of town on official business.

Despite opposition from states rights, some centrists and the Communists, the German constitutional convention approved it, 53 to 12, last night.

German democracy was reborn—on paper, at least—four years to the day they say they are hopelessly conceded defeat.

The constitution leaves the door open for the Russian zone to join the new state—if free elections take place in Soviet-controlled east Germany.

Free Elections Provided
The four-power Council of Foreign Ministers will discuss the German question generally in Paris May 23. Free elections might be planned there.

However, at present German Communists say they are proceeding with an "all-German government" in the Russian zone. They have insisted on a united Germany and opposed a western state.

The constitutional convention took eight months to draft the 146-article constitution.

Not mentioned in the final document were the reservations which the U. S., British and French made at Washington April 8th when they agreed to the proposed republic.

These are believed to include control over basic relations between Germany and the outside world as well as security against a revival of German militarism.

Each of the three western powers would terminate military government and appoint a high commissioner. The three high com-

NEGRO SAILOR HELD AS KNIFER

Magazine Salesman Alleges Assault

S 1/2 Willie Jones, 22, Stockton, California Negro, assigned to the USS Hollyhook, federal light-house tender, is being held by local police on a charge of felonious assault. Jones was identified by John Gill, 22, Plymouth, Indiana magazine salesman, as the man who Gill claimed slashed him across the abdomen and the left arm, apparently with a razor, Saturday evening.

Gill was found in his hotel room late Saturday night in a semi-conscious condition by two of his associates, L. C. Kemp of St. Angelo, Texas and John Patroude, of Grand Rapids. Gill has a cut on his arm and another across his abdomen. The wounds were dressed by Dr. Powers, who also summoned police.

Can't Remember
According to Gill's story, he was walking in the 600 block of Ludington street in front of the Daily Press building when he was bumped by a Negro. The two men became involved in an argument and Gill struck the Negro. Gill said the Negro asked him to go to the alley and the magazine salesman agreed to do so. Gill said that he hit the Negro, once and then lost consciousness. He alleged that he was struck on the head and apparently was slashed. His undershirt was cut but neither his suitcoat nor his shirt was damaged. Gill told police that he cannot recall how he got to his hotel room.

Police checked the Hollyhook and learned that there are four Negroes assigned to the ship, three of whom were aboard ship when the officers arrived. Gill said that none of the three was the man who had attacked him.

Willie Jones was the fourth Negro assigned to the ship and police located him at the residence of Charles Brown, local Negro who resides at the North Bay Shore road. Gill identified Jones as his attacker, but Jones denied that he was involved in a scuffle. Brown said that Jones was in his presence or in the presence of Pearl Brown throughout the evening, together with another Negro sailor, a Mr. Edwards, who returned to the ship about 11 p. m. Saturday, accompanied by Brown.

Jones has served aboard the Hollyhook since last October and has been in the coast guard service for 25 months. Previously he served three years in the army. Gill said that he had been drinking before his scuffle with the Negro and that his assailant also appeared to have been drinking.

The term "mayor" or "malor" was first used for any person who had supervision of others.

JOB INTERVIEW STUDY PLANNED

Employers Cooperate In Advising Seniors

Members of the Escanaba Rotary club and other business and professional men of Escanaba will assist high school teachers in conducting "job interviews" among members of the Escanaba high school senior class to better prepare the young people for job-seeking after they graduate.

The plan was presented to the Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting today noon by Allan Mathison and John Morris of the Senior high school commercial department.

Mathison said that approximately 160 members of the graduating class do not expect to attend college and will be added to the list of persons seeking employment in the Escanaba community.

Fewer job openings and keener job competition make it necessary for young people to better prepare themselves for the job of their choice, and their method of "selling themselves" to a prospective employer. The business and professional men can help the young people to a better knowledge of the responsibilities as well as the possibilities in a particular field, Mathison said. The school can assist the student generally but they are often most influenced by the men who have practical experience in a vocation.

Morris explained the working of the plan, to be started next week with the Senior class, in counseling rooms at Senior high school. Next year a more extended cooperative program is hoped to be carried on among Junior and Sophomores as well as Seniors.

Besides advising the student during the interview, the business or professional man will rate the student according to his attitude, speech, personality, initiative, mentality, confidence and appearance. These check lists will be used to help the student overcome his more obvious faults before leaving school to seek employment.

Violence Subdued In Asbestos City, Scene of Rioting

Asbestos, Que., May 9 (AP)—The riot act has been lifted from this strike-troubled Asbestos mining center but 350 provincial police still patrol its streets.

The act prohibits assembly, except for church services, of more than two persons under penalty of possible life imprisonment. It was read to the townspeople here early Friday morning following an outburst of violence the previous day.

The incidents Thursday, in which a number of provincial police officers were beaten, grew out of the bitter, long-drawn-out strike of 5,000 miners in Quebec's rich Asbestos belt. The strike started Feb. 13 when the men walked out seeking union security and an increase of 15 cents in their basic pay of 85 cents an hour.

Yesterday, hundreds of subdued residents of the town attended mass in the Roman Catholic church and heard the Rev. Philippe Camirand, deplore last week's violence. He said that the 2,100 strikers in Asbestos were "men of great piety and obedience."

Philippine Airlines Plane Missing With 13 Persons Aboard

Manila, May 9 (AP)—Search continued today for a Philippine airline plane missing since Saturday with 13 persons aboard.

The plane disappeared on a flight from Daet in southern Luzon. It last reported by radio 40 minutes before it was to land here.

Air line officials were puzzled over the plane's disappearance. One possibility advanced by a ranking official was that the pilots were kidnapped in the air by gunmen aboard. There was no evidence of this but the possibility was considered.

Planes searching for the missing craft spotted the wreckage of 10 previously lost planes but found no trace of the air liner. Surface craft also scoured Manila Bay.

Passengers reported aboard the plane were Richard Parker, 25, whose nearest of kin was listed as Mrs. Harold C. Voke, a cousin, who lives at 3373 Chili Road, Churchville, N. Y.; two Russians from Shanghai, two Filipinos and four Chinese. In addition there was a crew of four.

World War I Hero Alvin C. York III At Pall Mall, Tenn.

Pall Mall, Tenn., May 9 (AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, 62-year-old hero of World War I, is in "serious" condition but refuses to go to a hospital.

Doctors said York suffered diarrhea, intense vomiting and a recurrence of colitis late last week. Members of the family said the congressional medal of honor winner also suffered a slight stroke, the second in a year.

"We have tried to get him to go to a hospital, his physicians said. But he insists on staying at home."

"He might pull through this,"

Three Persons Dead After Mother's Day Shooting in Seattle

Seattle, May 9 (AP)—A 28-year-old mother, her husband and another man died in a Mother's Day shooting yesterday.

Otto Weidum, 30, had been struck in the head by the blast from a shotgun. His wife Mildred and Frank D. Howe, 33, had been shot with a .22 calibre rifle.

Coroner John P. Brill said the woman, mother of a 7-year old son, left a note which read in part:

"Dear Mom: Ott says I should write you a note and say that I've been a bad girl and should pay with my life."

The coroner said it was double murder and suicide. Neither Howe nor Mrs. Weidum could have shot themselves, he said.

In the house the coroner found a Mother's Day gift to Mrs. Weidum from her son and her husband.

Boy Uses Matches To Look at Puppies And Dies In Blaze

White Cloud, May 9 (AP)—Slipping away in the darkness last night to visit his dog and her litter of new puppies, five-year-old Kenneth Wolin was burned to death when a match he was using to see by set the dog house ablaze.

Newaygo county deputies said straw in the dog house apparently caught fire and trapped the boy after he had crawled inside and struck the match. The dog and four puppies also died.

Kenneth lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sergeant, on a farm 15 miles northeast of here. His mother, Mrs. Maxine Stuart, lives in Chicago, and his father, William Wolin, is somewhere on the Pacific west coast.

Plane Pair Saved After 6 Days In Wilds Of Canada

By GEORGE BRIMMELL
Vancouver, B. C. (Distributed by Associated Press)—Sun-burned and grimy, weary of chocolate bars and mosquitos, Bill Grant and Sheila Cure came home Sunday night—six days overdue.

Dressed in the same light clothing they wore when their light fleet Canuck aircraft crashed late Monday in a driving snowstorm atop 8,000-foot Mount Hoxomeen, 135 miles east, they told this story:

Grant, 30, a Vancouver pilot, and the 28-year-old student nurse left Cranbrook, Alta., en route to Vancouver at 8 a. m. Monday.

"The weather," said Grant, "was fine."

"We hit the first bad weather when we tried to go through the Coquihalla pass. It was coming down like curtains."

They tried the Big Bend highway route then but had to turn back. They tried to get to Princeton, B. C., "but we were blocked in solid."

"We were about at the border when it really closed in," Grant said.

"Then she started to ice up. The wings and struts were iced and the prop was, too."

"I knew that was it. I started to ease down slowly and the next thing I saw was snow and trees."

"I shouted to Sheila: 'Watch it. Here we go!'"

Grant said one wing hit a snag going in and the propeller snapped off. The only injury suffered was a bruised finger for Grant.

The pair spent that night—under freezing conditions—in the hole that the nose of the plane had dug when it crashed. "It was awfully cold," said Miss Cure. "Bitter."

The next morning "we gathered what stuff we could and started down the mountain."

With them they carried a compass, heavy clothing, a chart, the aircraft's log book, all the paper they could find and a pair of drapes Sheila's mother had made for the girl's room at Vancouver General hospital, where she is a student nurse.

Grant was dressed in a tweed jacket, shirt and tie, light trousers and heavy rubber boots.

Miss Cure wore a sweater, her hospital blazer, grey slacks, and rubber muckluks. All the food they had was five chocolate bars.

Their first hazard appeared to be an ice field. As they began to cross it the field moved.

The pair was carried 500 feet. "Sheila's head and one foot was sticking out the top when it stopped," Grant laughed. Neither was hurt.

"We realized we'd have to ration our food," Miss Cure said. "So we had only one square of chocolate apiece each day. Of course we had lots of water. The river ran along the bottom of the gorge."

Grant—who doesn't smoke—carried one booklet of matches. And with an old newspaper they lit fires each night.

They slept on ledges near the bottom of the valley wearing all the clothes they had and wrapped in Miss Cure's homespun curtains.

By Thursday they were "feeling pretty low."

About noon, they saw two R. C. A. F. aircraft.

"That was the first indication we had they were looking for us," Grant said. "It really bucked us up. We tried to signal them—we built a fire—but they were too far away."

Friday they saw more planes and that afternoon two R. C. A. F. Dakotas dropped the three parascue men who later guided them to safety. "A helicopter dropped us a radio and 'K' rations. This was the first real food we'd had since Monday," Grant said.

Saturday morning they met the para-rescue men. "Were we glad to see them!"

Later, the ground party which came 11 miles from the lumber camp joined them. They were guided to the camp, where the U. S. Coast Guard copter picked them up for the air journey home to Vancouver.

Seven occupants of the car escaped injury. The deer was killed.

DEER CAUSES WRECK
Grand Rapids, May 9 (AP)—For the third time in four weeks a deer was blamed for a Kent county auto accident Sunday.

Rockford state police said a car driven by Gerard McCormick, 33, of Grand Rapids, overturned north of the city limits after colliding with a deer which leaped into the highway from roadside brush.

Seven occupants of the car escaped injury. The deer was killed.

Trucks Park Along Pennsylvania Pike, Protest Weight Ban

Irwin, Pa., May 9 (AP)—More than 200 big trailer-trucks were parked along Pennsylvania's turnpike today in a driver protest against the state's weight limitations.

State police said the "park-down" started Wednesday night after they began a round-the-clock check of truck weight violations.

From 3 p. m. (EST) Saturday until last midnight, State Police Capt. Andrew J. Hudock said 56 trucks were fined from $25 to $50 each for exceeding the 45,000-pound truck weight limit.

A number of the truck drivers said they would remain parked along the highway until state police removed their weighing scales here Irwin—25 miles east of Pittsburgh—is the western terminus of the 160-mile turnpike.

Country Doctor, 97, Is Taken By Death At Benton Harbor

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 9 (AP)—Berrien county's "country doctor" is dead at the age of 97 years.

Dr. Homer Pease Mix, who for nearly 70 years engaged in the medical profession, died early this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph A. Tuell on Nickerson avenue, in suburban Fair Plain.

The slight, wiry little doctor who boasted he had brought "thousands" of babies into the world during his medical career, had been failing for a year, but his final illness was only of a week's duration.

party representatives from north Rhine-Westphalia also opposed the new state on religious grounds.

The west German republic would have a president with little power.

Chief administrative authority would rest with the chancellor. He would be chosen by a bund (parliament) of two houses. These would be a bundestag (lower house), and bundsrat (upper house).

Once more the black, red and gold flag of the old Weimar republic will fly over Germany. It had been replaced by the Swastika in 1933.

Dr. Konrad Adenauer, 73-year-old president of the convention, pleaded afterward that western Germans not be used as pawns at the forthcoming Big Four meeting.

"We do not want a Paris agreement which would adapt conditions of western zones to those of the eastern zone. We wish, instead, that the eastern zone would attain the same conditions under which we live today," Dr. Adenauer said.

Then—as he looked at the happy faces of the west Germans around him—Adenauer forgot his fears and added:

"This is the first day of joy since Jan. 30, 1933."

That was the day Hitler came to power.

School Election System Is Peculiar

THE school registration system offers some difficult problems for any prospective candidate for school board positions that will be voted upon in June.

There are something less than 200 registered voters in the school registration lists. It requires the signatures of at least 50 electors to qualify the nominating petition of a candidate. Thus, a prospective candidate must confine his nominating solicitation to those already registered and those who will register before the deadline for filing petitions.

The next registration date is Saturday, May 13, but past experiences indicate that only a few persons will register to vote in a school election unless there is a prospect of a contest for elective positions.

A person planning to become a candidate would have to concentrate on the task of getting his friends to register before the prospective candidate even circulates his nomination petitions. There certainly is no point in getting 50 or 100 or more signatures on nomination petitions unless the signatures are those of persons duly qualified to vote in the election at the time they signed the nomination petitions.

The problem poses some real difficulties. A large registration is necessary or at least desirable in a contested election. But the technical problem is such that it discourages candidates to file for the offices to be voted upon. And without the prospects of a contest, the average person can see no point in registering to vote in the school election.

The Parent-Teachers organization has the key to the remedial treatment for this awkward situation. By encouraging a number of persons to become candidates for the elective year, the PTA would be in a strong position to campaign for a heavy registration on May 14 and any other registration dates that are established before the registration deadline.

Then the prospective candidates could fill their nomination petitions without difficulty.

School elections henceforth would fulfill the democratic principles of American government.

More Blacktop Paving Project

PETITIONS for three additional paving projects have been submitted to the Escanaba city council. Two projects were approved by the council at its last meeting and the three new project proposals will likely be authorized at the next meeting of the council. The projects already submitted provide for the paving of six blocks in the city, in addition to the alley paving project south of Ludington, between 13th and 14th streets.

The city would like to do about five miles of blacktop paving this year, or about one-fourth of the dirt roads in the city. Whether this much work will actually be done will depend on the sentiment of property owners. The city prefers to have the initiative for paving projects come from the property owners themselves inasmuch as the cost is charged back to them by special assessments.

Fortunately, the city accomplished a heavy concrete paving project program in pre-war years, spurred by a WPA program that resulted in comparatively low charges against property owners. Present costs of concrete paving are so high that it is unlikely that much, if any, of this kind of paving will be done in the city in the next several years.

The blacktop surface, however, is growing in popularity and emphasis will be placed on this program for the next few years, at least. It is hoped that all of the remaining dirt roads will be eliminated by 1955 or earlier.

City To Launch Forest Project

THE city's plan to reforest the land acquired from the federal government in the ore dock project site purchase should meet with popular approval of the local public. Much of this land is suited only for forest growth.

The property is ideal from the standpoint of a community forest development. It is situated on the fringe of the city, easily accessible for development and for fire protection.

The first planting in the area will be made this month when approximately 15,000 seedlings will be planted with the use of a mechanical tree planter. Norway pine and some jackpine will be planted. Plantings will be made each year until the entire area has been covered. It is hoped that in future years the annual plantings can be increased.

Schools and communities should lead the way to reforestation of the denuded lands of the Upper Peninsula. Such projects provide impetus to reforestation by private land owners where the biggest job remains to be done.

There are hundreds of thousands of acres in the Upper Peninsula suited only for forest growth. These lands have played a leading role in the development of the woods industry but now they are denuded because those who held custody of them in past generations wasted their resources. It is the obligation of today's generation to rebuild the forest lands for the future.

FBI "Communists" Deserve Plaudits

IT is about time that a song of praise was raised for two unsung American heroes. They shot no enemies and won no medals during the war. But there must be plenty of veterans who would not have traded combat duty for the assignment that these two had.

We refer to Herbert A. Philbrick and Angela Colomiris, the FBI informants who recently testified at the trial of the Communist leaders in New York. Mr. Philbrick spent nine years in the Communist movement. Miss Colomiris was a party member for seven. The former said he received only his expenses from the government during that time. Miss Colomiris made no mention of being recompensed at all.

Their was not only a patriotic service. It must have been one of the most nerve-racking dramatic performances ever given. And without meaning to take any credit from the young woman volunteer, we would guess that what Mr. Philbrick went through was enough to tax his sanity.

He maintained his job and a normal home life. He deceived his family completely. But what is more important, he deceived the Communists. Both he and Miss Colomiris held important positions in the party which gave them among other things, an accurate line on party membership in their respective groups in Boston and New York.

It is trying enough to most of us who ever went through the experience to spend any length of time with native Communists. They are desperately earnest, tiresomely argumentative, maddeningly illogical and, so far as we have been able to observe, totally devoid of a sense of humor.

But if the obvious non-Communist finds them trying, what must it be like to be a non-Communist who pretends to be a believer? Never once could he lower his guard. Never once when his exasperation approached the breaking point, as surely it must have, could he rise up in meeting, shout "Oh nuts!" and stalk out. He had to stay and take it and pretend to like it.

Further, the masquerading non-Communist had to take insult from his loyal fellow-Americans in public appearances as a Communist demonstrator. And more than that he must have been conscious of the ever-present risk of being found out.

When at last Miss Colomiris and Mr. Philbrick were allowed to drop their disguises and appear as themselves, their relief must have been worth all the compensation that they deserved and did not receive. But the disclosure of their past activity makes one wonder how many other patriots are performing similar duties, and when they will be relieved of the arduous role of a double life.

GOOD SENSE IN BUILDING TRADES (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

Self-restraint and a shrewd appraisal of the general economic situation are reflected in the decision of three AFL building trades unions—the carpenters, cement finishers and operating engineers—to seek no wage increases at this time. Nine other construction crafts are said to have come to the same conclusion. So far, only three—laborers, iron workers and construction chauffeurs—have asked for higher rates.

Building costs are so inflated that the current boom is not of sufficient magnitude to meet the demand for housing. It would be tragic if it were to collapse because costs were allowed to rise even higher. Apparently, the AFL unionists realize this and are sticking to present pay scales as a contribution to stabilizing the building industry.

If they succeed in this and if contractors share the benefits of declining material costs with their clients, there should be plenty of building activity for some years to come. That would mean continued employment for those in the building trades. Certainly a steady job is worth more than a raise which might, in short order, mean no job at all.

MISPLACED ACCENTS CAUSE MANY ERRORS

Many of us are like the Frenchman who explained in speaking English he has difficulty in placing the accent on the right syll-LAB-le.

The words applicable and explicable, for example, should not be accented on the second or "plie" syllable. Only the first syllable is accented, thus: AP-li-kuh-b'l. The word comptroller is usually heard as "KOMP-tro-ler," a pronunciation that no authority sanctions. As a matter of fact, comptroller is a monstrous hybrid that is bad English and even worse French. The word comptroller was formed by splicing the -troller of controller to the French noun compte, "an account," thus producing a word that resembles neither parent, but remains as a caricature of both.

At any rate, the pronunciation is not "KOMP-tro-ler." If you must use the word, be sure to pronounce it: kun-TRO-ler.

Comptroller and controller are one and the same. Comptroller should be discarded in favor of the legitimate word controller.

Too Many G.O.P. Cooks Nowadays

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. — The Republican party is having policy troubles some more. Last week's meeting of the Republican national organization strategy committee in Washington produced lots of harmony and a demand that somebody ought to raise $500,000, but little else. This goose-egg performance tied the score with the GOP congressional policy committee actions which have so far done nothing, too.

The Republican strategy committee, which met in Washington at the call of National Chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., was made up of half a dozen elements. Representatives were there from the Republican national committee, the Republican governors, the Republican state central committees and national and state finance committees.

It was apparently a case of too many cooks to do any cooking. All that came out was a decision to do something later on. So anyone holding his breath to find out what the new and revitalized party now stands for, might as well relax. Policy decisions, it is now announced, are to be worked out at a series of regional conferences.

Western state Republican organizations have already scheduled a meeting for Los Angeles in June. Questions of conservation, reclamation, valley authorities and so on may be taken up there.

GRASS ROOTS LEVEL

A session on the problems of industry and taxation, to be held in New England some time, was talked about but not decided on. Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine is strong for this one.

The idea of having a midwest farm policy conference did take hold. It will probably be held in Des Moines in September. The idea is to see if something can't be worked out at the grass roots level to help the Republicans get back the farm vote.

The idea of having one big national Republican convention just before the 1952 congressional elections was apparently killed for good. This was Phil Willkie's proposal just after the Dewey defeat. His plan was to get the party on record as to what it stood for. Nobody seems to want it now.

This ties in with sentiment from one wing of the party leadership, to the effect that the Republicans already have a good enough platform. The reference is to the platform adopted at Philadelphia last June. This platform has never been used, according to one somewhat cynical view, and they might as well try to get some good out of it instead of starting from scratch to build a new one.

Still another sour comment was that there was no use trying to adopt a new GOP platform anyway. Even if a specific set of principles could be written, half the Republican members of Congress and the new candidates wouldn't consider themselves bound by such a declaration and wouldn't live up to it. So why bother.

ACTIONS VERSUS WORDS

The stunned house Republicans who came back to Washington last January started right in to set up a new kind of policy committee. Great things were expected of it. So far it has held about three meetings and made one policy pronouncement. This was an unequivocal stand against excise taxes on transportation and luxury goods. The issue hasn't come up yet, but it's one of Republican Minority Leader Joe Martin's pet projects.

The senate Republican policy committee under Robert A. Taft of Ohio has of late distinguished itself only by a couple of violent rows over public welfare legislation and the whole Truman legislative program in general.

At last week's meeting of the national organization strategy committee, which was created by Chairman Scott after the Omaha national committee meeting last January, somebody did produce a draft statement of principles for which the party should stand. No action was taken on it. The reception was so cool that nobody claimed authorship. In the opinion of some of the Republican congressmen who saw the statement later, the party would have been just as well off if this draft had never seen the light of day.

Specifically, the eight-point program was against high taxes, more power for the chief executive and communism. It was for a sound national economy, the highest living standard for all, an open foreign policy, national defense and peace.

This set of principles could be written on a post-card, all right. But what they meant or how they were to be achieved was spelled out no better than in a similar statement of Republican principles drawn up under the direction of Indiana Congressman Charles Halleck, in 1946. It was just another Republican disappointment and a flop.

There is no "ridge" in dirigible. Accent the first syllable and rhyme it with "fear, gear," thus: DEAR-i-ji-b'l.

Overheard at a lunch counter: "I'll have a chocolate EE-kla-ir." Eclair is a French loan word. In that language it is pronounced: ay-KLAIR, and that pronunciation is shown by most of our dictionaries. However, the prevailing American pronunciation is either uh-KLAIR, or I-KLAIR (short "I").

Epitome means "an abridgement or summary; a part or sample which is typical of the whole." Do not say "EP-i-tome." The word has four syllables, and the accent falls on the second, thus: ee-PIT-uh-mee.

St. Paul: My Funk and Wagnalls New Standard lists "KOR-sidge" as the only English pronunciation for the word corsage. Most I say "KOR-sidge?"—H. B.

A certainly not "KOR-sidge" is a British pronunciation that does not occur in American speech. The standard pronunciation the country over is: kor-SAHZIH.

The word grimace, by false association with "grim," is often pronounced "GRIM-iss." The word is of French origin, and it means "a contortion of the face; an ugly facial expression." It has no connection with the word grim. The correct English pronunciation is: gri-MAYSS.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

IN DEFENSE—Now that Mother's Day has come and gone, along with a million or more words by columnists who wept over "commercializing" the day, we will add a few comments of our own.

Mother, like baseball and Christmas, is sacrosanct. We will not point out that Mother's Day has become a time for loading the mater with gifts purchased at the five-and-dime or Tiffany's. Let us say only that Mother's Day is observed in America with that strange mixture of reverence and gift-giving we have come to look upon as expressing the highest order of sentiment.

We seek to please those we love and since gifts please, Mother's Day is as much a time for purchasing everything from gas ranges to nylons as any other event. Perhaps more so.

HOW COMMERCIAL — The rash of columns concerning the debasement of mother love by purchasing gifts for her was, if anything, more revealing of the columnist's business acumen than his concern for Mother's feelings.

Columnists know that the debunking type of article is startling and likely to be read. Criticizing business men for suggesting gifts for Mother's Day brings chuckles to the reader and causes him to look to that columnist for more laughs. This is good for the columnist's business. Therefore, the columnist can be accused of capitalizing on Mother's Day. He is the pot that is calling the you-know-what black.

NO SUFFERING — The purchase and presentation of gifts to mother seems to have wounded only the sensibilities of certain columnists. They are the only ones who suffered because mother received gifts. Certainly mother did not suffer. She may have received some of them with genuine surprise, wondering who in the world thought she would have time to enjoy a satin bed jacket, or where she might go to make use of a complete kit of evening make-up with lavender eye shadow.

But mothers generally have the ability to look behind the gift to the giver; to understand the motive of loving admiration and its expression.

Yesterday was not a day to cause mother to lose her self-respect, no matter what gift she received—or if she received none at all. Mothers are built of stronger stuff than columnists who express so much concern for her welfare.

IN PASSING—These thoughts come to mind because today, all across the land, mothers are happier in having received gifts from their children.

There may be a trace of sticky sentiment in the "Dear Mother, I Have Always Loved You" messages, but the sentiment is better than none at all. The too-sweet expressions are not the fault of mothers or their children. Generally they are written by professional writers. And who must we include among the professional writers? None other than columnists. You must watch where you poke a scornful finger nowadays or you may black your own eye.

The earthworm is blind, deaf and voiceless.

MOTHER LOVE—It is becoming more apparent each year that a certain element exists in America only because its members are adept at making money out of cynicism.

They have "debunked" all of our national heroes, "exposed" all of the skeletons in our political history, "revealed" all of the weaknesses of our social system, and generally made money doing it.

Now they are intent on showing that American business is out to slander mother, which does neither business nor mother any good. But it does help the smart sophisticates who gain a reputation for being witty as the dickens.

There is a vast difference between poking fun at yourself to entertain others, and in amusing the unthinking by making derogatory remarks about an American institution. Mother love may blossom as beautifully in other countries as here, but few of them set aside a day for its observance.

AS IT IS—Americans have so many days for the observance of this and that, and so many people who are actively interested in seeing that those days are properly observed.

What is wrong with this? Nothing, so far as we can see. Such is the American way. If we want to honor mother, father, sons, daughters, grandfathers and grandmothers there is nothing to stop us. And if the observance includes the giving of gifts, that does not detract from its significance.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

Detroit, (AP)—There is a Mother's Day, and there are days that mothers remember.

And they aren't at all necessarily the same days.

This is why it is so hard to arbitrarily pick a day to honor mothers.

Because the day that you most honored your mother wasn't necessarily a certain Sunday in May. The day she remembers you most for is the day she bore you.

A son who had been successful from the world's point of view would also like to think his mother remembered him from the day he did something that made him famous with the neighbors. She does, of course.

But that isn't necessarily the day he honored her most. It might much more have been a day years before when, in response to her teaching or her yearning, he made a decision that changed his life in a manner that shaped it in the way she wanted him to go.

I am not too sure how girl children feel about their mothers. Nor am I sure about how mothers feel about girl children. I think that generally, however, girl children are much more loyal and softhearted toward mothers than mothers are to them.

Once girl children have gone through parenthood themselves they are very likely to realize the problems of their own mothers. And they are more likely to appreciate them.

I think it is very normal for a son to be favored by his mother yet himself to want most to impress his father. And it is equally normal for a daughter to be idolized by her father and yet to ache from her heart to win admiration from her sometimes jealous mother.

The newer psychology says fathers are fondest of their daughters and mothers of their sons, and that sons turn most to their mothers for love and daughters to their fathers. But while this may be essentially true, it is a one-sided view of real family relationships.

A real son, loved as he is by his mother, turns inevitably to his father, the man he wants to equal or better. And the daughter, apple of her father's eye, similarly will break her heart to win her mother's love. Because, finally, her basic problem in life is the same as her mother's was—to bend a strange creature, man, to her will.

No Reward

Motherhood is the strangest industry on earth. It is based on responsibility that demands no reward.

A father often loses himself in the world and its problems, or tries to. This is harder for a woman. Whether her children are present or absent, each day she thinks of them—individually. And their problems are her chief problems.

A man likes to flatter himself he makes his own mark in the world. A woman is smarter. She knows that a seed pod is more than any one plant. She realizes that her weapon for renown is posterity—her children.

Woman is the true phoenix. She is born and reborn, died and lives, flames or fails as her offspring do. She is the future's assembly line, and without her there would be no future. And she knows it.

On Mother's Day we only formalize what woman is doing all the time—lighting another candle to life. And each man hopes his own mother never regrets she didn't blow his out the hour it

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Biggest question mark in the minds of every diplomat is whether the Russians have merely got soft temporarily or have made a major policy shift toward long-term cooperation with the rest of the world.

No diplomat, to date, dares venture a definite answer. However, uncensored reports from Germany give one significant clue which may reveal part of the answer.

Recently the Russians have been getting advice from Rudolf Nadelny, former German ambassador to Russia. Nadelny is not a Communist, is a German of Hungarian extraction, and a disciple of Bismarck, who always favored close cooperation between Germany and Russia.

Nadelny's advice to Moscow has been to cut out the diplomatic bluster, and talk softly to the west, while simultaneously strengthening Russian-German ties.

If Moscow extends the olive branch to western Europe and the United States, Nadelny is reported to have advised, western opinion will be lulled and congress will not appropriate full funds for the North Atlantic pact.

GERMAN-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE?

In addition, Nadelny also met with German leaders last month and gave them significant advice that Germany's future lay with Russia. The way Nadelny sited it upz was reported to be about as follows:

If there is peace, Russia can give far more to Germany than the Allies for two reasons:

1. She controls Silesia and can return it.
2. Britain and the U. S. A. are hungry for markets. If there is no war this competition for markets will become keener, and Britain and the U. S. A. will keep Germany an agrarian state. Meanwhile Russia has ample markets in China and offers no competition to Germany.

If, on the other hand, there is war, Nadelny said he had positive assurances that Germany would be spared. The Red army, he promised, would advance either through Norway or Italy. Therefore close German-Russian cooperation was essential.

Result was the stiff position taken by the western German leaders at Bonn, when they first turned down Gen. Lucius Clay's proposals for a western German state. It was only after the big three foreign ministers granted concessions that the western German charter of government finally was accepted.

PHONY TELEGRAM LOBBY

Not since the holding-company fight of 1935, when the private utility lobby bombarded congress with telegrams signed with names taken from a telephone directory, has Capitol Hill been deluged with so many phony telegrams and letters as in the current drive against public housing.

One of the lobby's most ingenious schemes is being worked on California congressmen by an organization with the high-sounding name, "Committee for Home Protection." Congressmen may not realize it, but this is merely a front for the powerful National Association of Home Builders.

Its general chairman, Frederick C. Dockweiler, also happens to be general counsel of the Los Angeles Home Builders Institute, while in the background is multimillionaire Fritz B. Burns, biggest west coast builder and former president of National Home Builders.

However, California congressmen would be even more amazed if they knew how the folks are being used by the "Committee for Home Protection." Here is how the lobby operates:

Committee agents approach citizens on the street, give them a "facts sheet," containing ten sample telegrams denouncing public-housing legislation, and ask them to select one, copy it on a telegraph blank provided by the lobby's agent, and sign it. Then twenty such "canned" telegrams have been collected, they are sent to a member of congress. The latter assumes the telegrams are legitimate messages from the voters back home.

In addition to the "facts sheet," which lobby agents hand to the public, they also have an "instruction sheet," which they are very careful not to hand out. These confidential instructions are a dead giveaway. This is what they say:

LOOKING FOR SHEEP

"1. Select your prospect. Get a man who has absolutely no connection with the building or real-estate business. This is a 'grass roots campaign'; so look for laborers, white-collar workers, veterans, housewives, small-shop keepers—people in the middle- and lower-income brackets.

"2. Show your prospect your facts sheet. "3. Ask him to write his message on a telegraph blank. Get him to select his favorite argument and state that in a maximum of 25 words. Included in this message should be a statement of his occupation or affiliation, such as: 'I am a bus driver,' 'I am a housewife,' 'I am a veteran,' etc."

"4. Get your prospect to sign his name and address. Getting both the name and address is very important. It proves to that congressman that the voter lives in his district. Also, it gives the campaign office (lobby headquarters) a double check, so that we can be sure the telegram is going to the right congressman.

"5. Send your telegram to the campaign office. Send your telegram, written in the prospect's own handwriting immediately to Frederick C. Dockweiler, chairman, Committee for Home Protection, 672 West Washington Boulevard, Los Angeles 15. Here it will be checked and filed for delivery in Washington.

"Don't worry if neither you nor your prospect knows the name of his congressman. Our campaign office will check the address and see that it goes to the proper man. For your general information, the map reproduced on the reverse side of this sheet lists our Southern California delegation."

Big Eye Of Palomar Gets Last Polishing To See More Stars

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Palomar's "big eye"—already the apple of astronomers' eyes—is going to be even better than expected after a final polishing.

That's the opinion of Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, chief stargazer at the observatory atop Mount Palomar. The lens of the 200-inch telescope will be polished again this month—for the last time it is hoped—to remove about 20-millionths of an inch thickness from an 18-inch spot on the mirror's outer edge.

The job will take six months, according to Dr. Ira S. Bowen, director of Palomar and Mt. Wilson observatories.

With a 10 per cent improvement expected from the final grind, Dr. Hubble predicts that it may be possible to photograph stars 100 million light years further away than the big telescope-camera actually was designed to reach. It was designed to see one billion light years into space—twice the range of the 100-inch Mt. Wilson telescope, heretofore the world's largest.

While first photographs with the "big eye" last February were somewhat fogged by a film of oil and dust on the mirror's aluminized surface, results were so good that Dr. Hubble was able to say:

"It seems unlikely that further significant gains can be expected until great telescopes can be operated outside our atmosphere—possibly on the moon."

In other words, out of this world. But in the guarded, scientific fashion of astronomers, Dr. Hubble adds:

"No very definite conclusion can be drawn from the data on the photographs * * * and the scanty data could be used to support any of the current theories of the universe."

Any hope that the huge telescope-camera might divulge secrets of outer space must wait until the "big eye" resumes operations in the fall. Says Dr. Hubble: "The few regions of the sky that were observed, each a very small fraction of the apparent size of the moon, are not enough to give reliable information concerning the universe as a whole—they do not make a fair sample."

There was no convincing evidence that the universe is expanding, or that it is not expanding, nor was there any conspicuous change in the pattern of nebulae in the newly observed regions. Definite conclusions on these questions must await long and very precise investigations of many samples of the sky.

"Photographs have been made of neighboring stellar systems—within a few million light years—in order to test the power of the telescope in showing the brighter star individually."

Among the several thousand stellar systems (milky ways) whose dimensions and distances can be estimated, Hubble said, only three or four appear to be comparable to our own.

However, with the "big eye" scanning the sky, "there are millions of nebulae in the observable region of the universe," the Palomar astronomer says, "and among them there may be some that surpass even our own system."

So after 20 years and $6,000,000 worth of effort, the mighty project may soon pay off in man's ever-growing search for knowledge of the space in which we live.

ISLAND IS QUIET FOR BILL DOYLE

No Prospect Of Fight This Summer

By WILLIAM R. MULLER
Lansing, Mich.—Listlessly fondling his Irish blackthorn cane, Mackinaw Island Park Commissioner Wilfred E. Doyle contemplated this week a dull social season without a single head to whack.

Doyle had been practicing, for the benefit of his graciously adoring wife, Catherine, before a pining glass in his East Lansing home, striking the attitude with which he gives a Grover Whalen greeting to each dignitary descending from an island boat.

The indestructible Doyle had just returned from proffering full island hospitality to Democratic Gov. Williams. "Soapy" had cheerfully agreed to spend "considerable time" at the island Governor's house. There was no fight there.

Foes Become Cronies
In fact, there was no prospect of a fight for the whole summer. When at the island, playground of Michigan, Doyle was seen walking the longest porch in the world with W. S. Woodfill, president of the Grand Hotel. Just a year before Doyle and Woodfill were having a glorious time bashing each other's heads in the public prints.

Two years ago the then Mayor Alan Sawyer, of Mackinaw City, refused to nominate Doyle as resident commissioner of the island, thereby breaking the chain of years from 1877 that Doyle has been a park commissioner.

But now Doyle and Sawyer have laid a common water conduit between their cottages. Last summer Sawyer and Doyle, at many a sundown, sneaked to the bar in Doyle's barn by way of the Doyle mint bed, close cronies.

In 1946 Kim Sigler had sworn to wipe Doyle off Mackinac Island if elected Governor. Sigler was elected. He re-appointed Doyle to the Park Commission. And Doyle had the island whistles blow when Sigler came into port.

Occasionally, Doyle perks up for a few days and shows his old interest in the island. Recently the island carriage corporation, at Doyle's suggestion, hired a number of Michigan State College veterinary students to drive the ancient horse-drawn carriages this summer.

Terms Expire July 24
Nobody is quite sure if Doyle is interested in having three cronies re-appointed to the commission. They are Donald McGowan, of Jackson; Joseph H. Thompson, of Ypsilanti, commission secretary, and Louis P. Simon, of Kalamazoo, chairman.

Gov. Williams said he probably will be ready with fresh blood for the commission when the terms expire July 24.

"It looks like a very quiet time at the island this year," commented Doyle. "Very quiet. I guess I'll trim my roses a little, and visit with old friends."

Doyle hopes to open the season about June 15, with a quiet dinner at Island House from which he recently succeeded in ousting the Moral Rearmament group. Then he plans to walk slowly up the hill to his island home along the carriage roads, swishing his blackthorn cane through his island patriarchy.

It will be peaceful. Even the flies have quit fighting Doyle and his DDT.

Primitive people tattooed themselves, primarily for embellishment, although the figures also had a symbolic significance.

are they planning to make your pay check look like this?

Bureaucratic planners talk glibly about "free" medical care under the compulsory government plan — but it's pure poppycock. There is no such thing as "free" medicine. Your doctor, your hospital, your nurse, your prescriptions will all be paid out of your weekly wage. Deductions will be made from your pay check to cover the cost — up to 4% — maybe more — and you'll have a take-home pay that has shrunk considerably. So stop a minute and figure out the cost when sugar-coated promises are made to you about getting medical care for nothing.

Remember: It won't be the doctor who pays for compulsory health insurance; it will be YOU — forever and ever! Visit with your doctor about this matter and get the practical side of it as well as the pretty promises.

Miniature Woods Camp and Mill Is Ingenious Affair

Animated logging camp and sawmill operations are shown in an interesting miniature exhibit, hand-made by Emil Kedrowitz of Stevens Point, Wis., and now being displayed at the Skerbeck show lot.

Kedrowitz, a barber by trade, started making a miniature steam engine 16 years ago as a leisure-time hobby. After he built the two-foot long engine, he decided to make it "run something." He built a miniature sawmill, and put it in operation in his backyard.

It attracted so much attention that he got the idea for enlarging the exhibit and taking it on the road. For the last 12 years, Kedrowitz has been showing the exhibit around the Middle West. He says it is most popular in logging areas.

The exhibit shows animated figures felling trees and sawing them into logs, loading sleighs and other woods operations. In one section of the miniature forest, a hunter can be seen scaring a rabbit from its hiding place under a stump.

The sawmill is an ingenious affair. The steam engine drives a carriage back and forth, a nigger device turns the log around for the saw cuts, and the buzz of the circular saw can be heard as it "cuts" through the log. A miniature conveyor carries real sawdust to a pile outside the red mill.

A small gasoline burner is used to fire up the engine.

The Rev. William Lutz performed the double ring ceremony of the 4 o'clock wedding.

Traditional processional and recessional music of the ceremony was played by Mrs. Henry Ottensman; and Miss Doris Costley sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Flower girl Corinne LaMarche was dressed in yellow marquisette and carried roses and snapdragons, while the ring bearer, Rodney LaMarche, carried a heart-shaped pillow upon which the rings reposed. Both are cousins of the bride.

Church Women Council Holds Fellowship Day

That religion is taught first, not in the Sunday School but in the home and that we teach Christian living in the home not only by word but by implication, were points brought out by the Rev. James Bell of the First Presbyterian church in a talk on "The Christian Home" given before the Escanaba Council of Church Women, observing May Fellowship Day at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Friday afternoon.

The program opened with a welcome and a review of the purpose of the Council by Mrs. Howard Eldred, chairman. The invocation given by the Rev. Karl Hammar of the Central Methodist church was preceded by group singing of "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds." Scripture readings were given by the Rev. John Anderson of the Evangelical Covenant church. Soloist at the meeting was Donn Olin, who sang "The Good Shepherd" by Van de Water. He was accompanied by Miss Irene Steen. The meeting closed with group singing of "America, The Beautiful," followed by the benediction pronounced by the Rev. John Anderson. Organist at the meeting was Mrs. Charles Bisdie.

Tea was served afterward in the Guild Hall at a daintily appointed table at which Mrs. A. V. Aronson and Mrs. Earle Harris poured. Those assisting Mrs. John Mitchell at the tea were Mrs. A. V. Aronson, Mrs. Charles Bisdie, Mrs. John Gauvin, Mrs. Merritt Kasson and Mrs. Otto Paeske.

For a teen-age party serve coffee ice cream topped with marshmallow cream or marshmallow fluff and blanched toasted almonds.

Eskymos First In Triangular Track Meet

Marquette Beaten By Eskys, 77½ to 75, As Miners Finish Third

Marquette, May 9.—The Escanaba Eskymos won their first start in the 1949 track season by nipping the Marquette Redmen, 77½ to 75½, in a triangular track meet here Saturday afternoon as the Negaunee Miners came in a poor third with 28½.

Escanaba turned in five firsts but piled up sufficient points in show and place positions to edge the Redmen on their home track. Good times in three track events were Paul Gustafson's 16.5 in the 120 high, Tom Nault's 1.5 in 2:15.6 in the half mile and Gustafson's 24.8 in the low hurdles, only 3 of a second over the U. ### Flint Tops Central Ball League Again

(By The Associated Press)

Flint again topped the Central League standings today, although it split a doubleheader Sunday with the Charleston Senators. The Senators won the opener, 5 to 2, but faded in the finale, losing it 6 to 2.

The Dayton Indians, who topped the League Saturday, dropped back to second spot when dumped twice Sunday by Muskegon's Clippers. The scores were 13 to 12 and 6 to 3.

Michigan Trackmen Tip Purdue, Indiana

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—The mile relay proved the difference here Saturday as Michigan's track team downed Indiana, 68½ to 65½.

In the triangular meet, Purdue trailed by 27 points. The Wolverines had firsts in the 440-yard dash, the 880-yard run, and the pole vault.

Since basketball was started at Notre Dame in 1898, the Irish have won 599 games and lost 239.

Rivals Amazed At Senators' Power

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It's not official yet, but there is a strong rumor the American League clubs are planning to ask for a congressional investigation of the Washington Senators—baseball variety.

They simply can't believe that the allegedly weak-hitting Senators, riding high on an amazing seven-game winning streak, have been using natural batting power. They strongly suspect that President Clark Griffin, a well-known hobnobber with capitol brass, has been allowed free access to the secret atom bomb files in the Pentagon building.

How else could anyone account for the 18 home runs hit by Washington players in the last nine games? Or the 70 hits in the Senators' last seven winning efforts?

Washington's double victory over the Indians in Cleveland yesterday was by far the most amazing stunt of the young season. Joe Kuhel's unpredictable arm only whipped the world champions in the opener, 7-3, but shut them out in the nightcap, 2-0 before 49,734 stunned Ohioans.

The double victory moved the Nats into a fifth place tie with Philadelphia's Athletics, only a half game away from the first division.

The New York Giants continued to combine power and finesse to humble the Chicago Cubs 10-1 for their sixth straight, their triumph gave the Polo Grounders undisputed possession of first place, as the Pittsburgh Pirates socked the Braves twice in Boston, 8-3 and 11-8.

The Giants backed Larry Jansen's steady pitching with a 14-hit attack that included Bobby Thomson's three-run homer and Billy Rigney's two-run triple.

The double defeat dropped Boston out of a first place tie into third, one and a half games behind the Giants. The Blue clubbed Johnny Sain out of the first game with a five-hit four-run attack in the opening frame. They came up with a six-run eighth inning in the second game to overcome an 8-5 deficit.

Brooklyn scored four runs in a wild seventh inning to come from behind and defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-7, at Ebbets field. The Dodgers made only two hits in that inning, but received three walks and hit off Ed Kaczmarek's error. Glen Nelson led off with the ninth with a triple, but relief pitcher Preacher Roe, former Redbird, retired the next three cards without as core. The defeat dropped the Cards into a last place tie with the Cubs.

Cincinnati and the Phillies divided a double header in Philadelphia. The Reds won the opener 14-7 with a seven-run 12th inning. The Phils grabbed the nightcap, 8-1. The game was halted after six innings by Pennsylvania's curfew law.

The Boston Red Sox took both ends of a doubleheader at the hands of the Browns in St. Louis, 10-5 and 4-3. The first game went 13 innings and the second eight before darkness halted it.

Benard Named Head Of U. P. Association

Menominee, May 9.—Escanaba was awarded the 1950 Upper Peninsula Bowling association tournament at the annual business meeting of association directors held here at the close of the 1949 tourney.

The voting follows: Escanaba 1231, Iron Mountain 730, Negaunee 461 and blank votes 14. Alphenix Benard, of Escanaba, was elected president of the association. Other officers named were Pat McPherson, vice president, and William Puckelwartz, secretary, both of Escanaba.

A total of $5,488 in entry fees was reported for the 1949 tournament. This came from an entry list of 216 five-man teams, 421 doubles and 822 singles contestants.

Gladstone Redskins Tip Trenary, 1 - 0, In Exhibition Game

Gladstone, May 9.—The Gladstone Redskins scored an unearned run in the fourth inning, and that was sufficient to give them a 1-0 victory over Trenary in a pitchers' duel in an exhibition game Sunday at the Bayshore diamond.

After Mel Rothschild was safe on an error and Charlie Lundmark walked, Dick Williamson sacrificed them to third and second. Druckenmiller then threw a "blooper" pitch to the backstop and Rothschild came in with the only run of the game.

Rothschild, Alden Haglund and Pete Dementier each hurled three innings, allowing seven hits, striking out 16 batters and walking four. Trenary had runners on base in every inning, but failed to score.

George Brown worked three runless innings for Trenary, was relieved by Druckenmiller, who pitched well, except for the one bad pitch.

Haglund for Gladstone and V. Latviva for Trenary each got two hits, Richmond tripled for Trenary in the opening inning, but was left stranded when Rothschild got the next two men on strikes. Then Don Soderman opened Gladstone's eighth with a triple, but did not score as Druckenmiller retired the side, getting two strikeouts.

GRAND SLAM HOMER

KAYOES WILSON, 9-4

Perronville, May 9.—C. Bartoszek grand slam homer in the seventh inning wrapped up the ball game for Perronville in its 9-4 conquest of Wilson in a Tri-County Baseball league opener here yesterday afternoon.

The rivals were tied at four-all until Bartoszek unhooked his long ball to settle the issue. In all, the victors found Sharkey and Poisson, Wilson hurlers, for 10 hits.

Capot Cooked Olympia's Goose, Gave Ponder Best Of It In Derby Stretch

Louisville, Ky., May 9 (AP)—Olympia will not start in the Preakness at Baltimore Saturday.

His trainer, Ivan Parke, said the favorite that finished sixth in last Saturday's Kentucky Derby will be flown to New York instead.

"We just decided to pass it (the Preakness) up," he said.

While Olympia was readied for travel to New York, crafty old Ben Jones, the Missourian who trained Ponder, the surprise derby winner got ready to take his latest pride and joy to Baltimore for a crack at the $75,000 added Preakness.

The Preakness, the second "jewel" in American racing's triple crown is set for Pimlico Saturday, where Ponder is going to have enough equine company to keep things quite interesting as the pace changes from Kentucky bourbon to Maryland rye.

The Calumet farm colt trimmed 13 rivals in the diamond jubilee derby, including the heavily favored Olympia. Now the big question is whether the young upstart which never did anything until May 7, 1949, can do it again over the slightly shorter Preakness course.

Four or five other derby horses are heading for Pimlico, where several others are waiting for Maryland's biggest race.

Around the barns at Churchill Downs there is a general opinion that Capot will be a large number in the Preakness.

Capot, Greentree stable's ace, was one which went out with the fast-stepping Olympia in the blistering early derby pace. There isn't much doubt that Capot cooked Olympia's goose, for he went out and ran with him from the start like nothing has done before this year.

Of course, it also chilled off Capot and gave the horse with the most left at the finish—Warren Wright's Ponder—the diamond-studded gold cup.

"We've got the horse to beat from now on," John Gaver, the Greentree stable trainer said.

Another strong vote for Capot in the Preakness came from Hirsch Jacobs, trainer of Palestinian, which wound up third in the derby.

"Capot looks like the one to beat there," the red-haired veteran said as he loaded Palestinian on the train for Baltimore.

St. Joe Breaks Even In Twin Bill

St. Joseph's Trojans broke even in a rousing doubleheader at the city diamond here Saturday afternoon, stopping St. Paul's of Negaunee in regulation seven innings, 6-5, and then traveling 12 innings against the Negaunee Miners before bowing, 1-0.

Joe Sullivan gave St. Paul's six hits in the opener. They bunched them to score four of their five runs in the third inning. St. Joe scored two in the first, two in the third and one each in the fourth and fifth.

Phil Legault was the star of the game, but he was guilty of four of St. Joe's six errors in the nightcap. Legault rapped two hits in three times at bat against St. Paul's and it was his one-handed stab catch of Dreon's booming drive in the first of the seventh inning that ended a threat that appeared headed toward overcoming the Escanaba lead.

Trailing 6-5 in the top of the seventh, the Emeralds had men on second and third with only one. Sullivan struck out Tacolini, but Dreon caught hold of one that was headed for a sure hit and the tying run until Legault turned in his fielding gem of the day.

St. Joe had plenty of chances to score in the marathon nightcap. The Trojans had men on first and second with none out in the first, men on base in the second, two men called out at home plate on close plays (Jim Marsieck out at first), men on base in the sixth, eighth, ninth and eleventh but they couldn't get over the hump.

Uitto and Ray Menard, St. Joe hurler, tangled in a mound duel for nine innings. Wilbert Rasmusen, big Negaunee ski jumper, relieved Uitto in the tenth.

Rasmusen faced 11 batters in the last three innings and struck out eight of them. He retired them all in order except for Marsieck's double in the eleventh and Legault's safe trip to first on Catcher Helgren's error after Legault had struck out.

Uitto struck out seven men in nine innings. Rasmusen eight in three and Menard whiffed 14 in 12.

Helgren scored the winning run in the top of the twelfth on Johnson's double between right and centerfield. He got one base on Catcher Laviolette's error. Helgren struck out but Laviolette dropped the third strike and then threw low to first.

Kutches was hurt in the second game when he twisted his ankle sliding into home plate.

St. Joe next faces Rapid River here Saturday and Escanaba high next Monday.

Yankees Bomb Tiges As Byrne Hurls Two-Hitter

Detroit, May 9 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who have not had much success lately against left-handed pitching, were a little happier today as the New York Yankees again right-handed Vic Raschi against them.

Tommy Byrne, Yankees' left-handed curve baller, was the latest southpaw to give the Tigers a rough afternoon. He tossed a 12-0 two-hitter yesterday.

It was the Tigers' first shutout this year and snapped the four-game winning streak of Virgil Trucks.

Byrne's shutout followed two good pitching performances by Bob Shantz and Lou Brissie, Philadelphia Athletics lefthanders.

Shantz gave the Tigers only two hits in a 10-inning relief job Friday and beat them 5-4 in 13 innings Brissie allowed seven hits in seven innings Saturday as the Tigers won 4-2.

For Byrne, the victory marked a continuation of his mastery over the Tigers. He beat them three times last season, one of the victories being a two-hitter in his first start with the Yankees.

Some 52,891 fans jammed Briggs stadium yesterday to see the first clash of the year between the league-leading New Yorkers and the Tigers, one of the surprise teams of the league.

They saw Byrne still the Tiger bats until the top of the sixth when Shortstop Johnny Lipon led off with Detroit's first hit, a little blooper into left field.

Bob Swift added Detroit's other hit, a single with two out in the ninth, but he never got past first base.

The Tigers sent Ted Gray against the New Yorkers today in the second game of the three game series.
